DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
2. Claims 1-11, 14, and 16-20 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Kimura et al, 5,651,724, as set forth in the Office action mailed January 24, 2003.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
3. Claims 12 and 13 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kimura et al, '724, as set forth in the Office action mailed January 24, 2003.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed July 25, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that '724 applies forces in addition to the force applied by the spindle, and therefore does not anticipate the claimed invention. The examiner strongly disagrees. '724 discloses a spindle which applies a downward mechanical force to the wafer during polishing, and the shape of the spherical cap distributes that force as first and second forces applied by the outer and inner regions of the cap. That '724 supplements the force on the inner region with fluid pressure is moot-applicant has not provided any limitation or structure that would prevent the application of other forces, for whatever reason, to the backside of the wafer. It is inherent to the mechanics of the device that the downward force from the spindle be distributed by the spherical cap.

5. As regards the rejection of claims 12 and 13, applicant has not argued the specifics of the rejection under 35 USC 103, only that the reference does not anticipate the independent claim from which they depend. The examiner concludes that applicant, while not conceding the rejection under 35 USC 102, agrees with the analysis under 35 USC 103.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
